Questions 151-152 refer to the following e-mail.

E-mail

To: rwiest@lupinecityhall.com

From: dbryant@arcospartners.com

Date: April 12

Subject: Site Survey

Attachment: Survey

Dear Mr. Wiest,

I e-mailed you the site survey document on Monday, so it's strange that you didn't see it. Perhaps because I sent it from my personal e-mail rather than my work e-mail, your server didn't recognize it and routed it to your junk-mail folder instead. In any case, I will reattach the document here.

If the site is approved by next week, my team will expedite the completion of the final blueprints. The property owner hopes to have the full building project approved before the end of the month so that the construction team can start laying the foundation in June.

Sincerely,
Daniela Bryant

151. According to Ms. Bryant, why might Mr. Wiest not have seen the original document?

- (A) She forgot to attach it to her e-mail.
- (B) She sent it to a different person.
- (C) It may have gone to the wrong e-mail folder.
- (D) The file in it may have been too large.

152. Who most likely is Ms. Bryant?

- (A) An architect
- (B) An apartment-building manager
- (C) A banker
- (D) A property owner
